2nd reading given to rezoning bylaw

Council gave second reading Monday night to a bylaw calling for the rezoning of a portion of the Ball Estate area from residential comprehensive to highway commercial.

But they won't make a further move until they have seen concrete plans regarding the development of a 15-room hotel.

A public hearing was held into the bylaw Monday night and several residents of the area were on hand, some to protest the proposed development and some to state conditions they would like to see met if the development is to go ahead.

The hotel, being proposed by developers Leo Superstein and S. Shapiro for the area south of Ball Avenue and west of the Esso Service station on the corner of Ball and the St. Albert Trail, would have three beverage rooms and a bar.

Town planner J. X. Woodroffe had earlier told council that under standards of 10 years ago the Alberta Liquor Control Board probably would have okayed one more large hotel in St. Albert, but now would rather see two small ones.

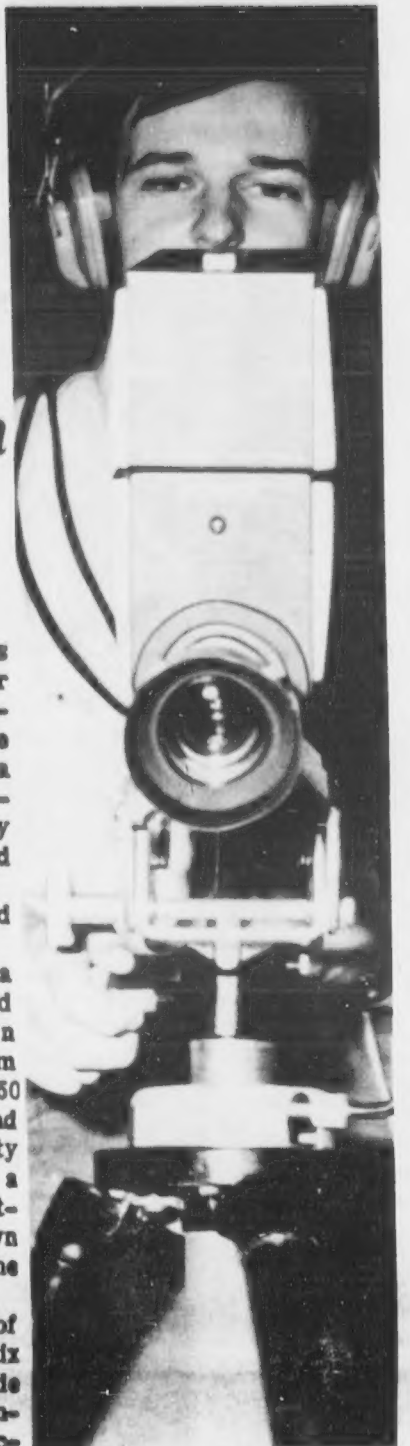

Council passed a resolution stating that one of the conditions the developers would have to meet in order to obtain a development permit would be to follow the conditions as outlined in a letter from Roland and Liliane Nobis, whose property at 148 St. Albert Road would abut the development.

Mr. and Mrs. Nobis called for the developer to:

1. erect and maintain a six foot high solid board fence along the southern boundary of its lands from a point approximately 150 feet west of St. Albert Road to the end of the property line, said fence to be of a design and standard acceptable to us and to the Town Planning Officials of the Town of St. Albert;
2. plant a buffer strip of evergreen trees at least six feet high on the north side of the said fence and maintain said buffer strip according to proper standards of landscaping;
3. lay out and maintain a front landscaping which will be tasteful and not be inconsistent with the residential use of our property.

No, it's not a new type of weapon. It's a television camera. And the man behind it is St. Albert High School student Martin Soetaert. Story and more pictures on Page 6.

Planning for career fair

Representatives from both St. Albert school districts and the Sturgeon School Division met in St. Albert on Monday to begin planning for the career fair which will be held in St. Albert High School March 20.

Dr. Larry Ferguson, supervisor of guidance for the department of education, attended the meeting to provide information on the fair, which are being held at various centres in the province.

Dave Thomas, supervisor of guidance with the St. Albert Protestant Separate

School District, said following the meeting that 30 representatives from business, industry and educational institutions would be handling booths at the fair.

They would each be giving talks at intervals throughout the day.

Superintendent appointed

Elmer S. Gish has been named superintendent for the St. Albert Protestant School District. Mr. Gish is principal of W.P. Wagner High School in Edmonton. The appointment was announced Tuesday night by the Edmonton Public School Board. Jack Black has been acting superintendent since the resignation of Dr. J.W. Chalmers last June. Dr. Chalmers joined the education faculty at the University of Alberta.

Nickerson PTA to hear family life director

Mrs. Joan Jakes, executive director of the family life education council, will address the monthly meeting of the Leo Nickerson Parent Teacher Association at the school on Wednesday, Feb. 18, at 8 p.m.

Literature on family life will be available at the meeting. All those interested are welcome to attend.

Council (almost) fires solicitor

A bit of tricky wording in a resolution passed Jan. 26 kept council busy for nearly 30 minutes Monday night.

Mayor Ray Gibbon had recommended at the Jan. 26 meeting that the town continue with its present solicitors, the firm of Brownlee, Fryett and Walter.

Council agreed to the resolution, but in an amended form.

Councillor R. G. Wheatley's amendment read: With respect to all matters that have up to this time been referred to the Brownlee firm with the exception of the power franchise question.

Mayor Gibbon opposed the amendment, but his was the only dissenting vote.

Last Monday, however, the mayor scored.

The amendment, he said, in effect had left the town without a solicitor since the Jan. 26 meeting. The Brownlee firm under it could only handle matters that had been referred to it prior to the Jan. 26 meeting.

The point was argued but council eventually passed a further resolution, calling for the Brownlee firm to continue as town solicitors with the exclusion of the power franchise and annexation.

Council is considering other solicitors to handle these matters.

Council ups tax penalty

Council passed a resolution Monday night to increase the interest rate on tax arrears from six per cent to eight.

Mayor Ray Gibbon was against the increase, saying people who are going to be hurt by the increase are people who can't afford it.

Council, however, felt it had to recover its money some way.

Councillors John de Bruijn, Frank Lukay, Rene Kambouroff and R. G. Wheatley voted in favor of the increase. Mayor Gibbon was against.

Part of the Sing Out Edmonton troupe that will perform at Sir George Simpson Junior High School at 2:30 p.m. Sunday gave preview performances at Paul Kane and St. Albert High Schools on Tuesday afternoon. The St. Albert Kinnettes are sponsoring the Sunday show as their contribution to the Kinsmen 50th Anniversary Week celebrations.

Comets clinch second, open playoffs Friday

St. Albert Comets clinched second place in the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League on Tuesday night with a 4-3 victory over Barrhead Chiefs in Morinville Arena in their final league game.

Doug Knisley scored the winning goal with only 20 seconds to go in the game. Team Captain Fred Hesse had kept Comets on top of the Chiefs, scoring all the St. Albert team's earlier goals.

...three goals

The victory was Comets' fifth straight in their late season rush. They won 12 over the season in the league and combined with a tie, this gave them 25 points, one shy of league-leading Vimy Rockets.

Comets will open the best-of-five semi-final series against Spruce Grove Mercuries in Morinville at 8 p.m. Friday night.

Comets held 1-0 and 2-1 period leads Tuesday and ran the count to 3-1 in the third before Barrhead rallied to tie it.

St. Albert Comets won three straight games to win the Sturgeon River Senior Hockey League's annual referees' tournament at Westlock on the weekend.

And Comets didn't have any soft touches along the way as they played and beat three of the top teams in the league, winning 7-4 over Spruce Grove Mercuries, 6-5 over Westlock Eagles in overtime and 9-7 over Vimy Rockets.

Comets led 2-1 after the first period in the final but Vimy was in front 5-3 after the second. Comets scored six goals in the third, with Ray Lamer getting the winning goal and an insurance tally in the dying minutes to break the 7-7 tie.

The St. Albert scoring wasn't spread around too much in this one as Doug Knisley counted three goals and Fred Hesse and Dan Roberge each got two.

Al LaPlante, with three, Darcy Baert, Ed Bourque and Roger St. Arnaud scored for Vimy. LaPlante received a game misconduct penalty in the second period for spearing and that was when the Vimy attack lost its sting.

Comets were always in command in their opening game against Spruce Grove, leading 4-0 after the first period and 6-2 after the second.

Knisley also got two goals in this one and Richie Perrault, Joe Cassidy, Lamer, Hesse and Goode each scored one.

The game against Westlock was touch and go from start to finish. It was 1-1 after the first, 4-4 after the second and 5-5 after three. Fred Hesse got the winner in overtime, his third goal of the game, on a pass from Dave Joyal. Perrault scored two goals and Lamer got the other.

Knisley was the top Comet point-getter in the three games, potting five goals and adding six assists. Hesse had six goals and two assists and Lamer had four goals and four assists.

Proceeds from the tournament go towards defraying the costs of referees during regular league play.

Legal Citadel Canadiens, who dropped out of the league earlier this season, won the tournament last year, defeating Comets 6-5 in the final.

Comets scored their fourth straight win and first of the season over Vimy Rockets, 7-2 last week.

Comets took a 4-2 lead in the first period and had things pretty much their own way the rest of the distance, padding the margin to 5-2 in the second period and scoring the last two goals in the third.

Joe Cassidy and Terry Gary Larsen stopped

Gary Larsen of St. Albert had his winning streak snapped at eight Saturday when he was defeated by Les Hamilton of Vancouver.

Larsen's handlers threw in the towel in the second round when he apparently ran out of steam and Hamilton took control of the fight.

Larsen was fighting in Vancouver as a member of the Alberta junior boxing team. He was elected captain when the team left for the Coast on Thursday.

Keith Larsen, team manager, said Larsen had a "real tough opponent."

"Gary had the edge in the early part of the two rounds, but he seemed to run out of steam. If he gets in a little better shape, he'll beat him the next time they meet because he's a far superior boxer."

...out for season

Dube each scored twice for Comets and Ray Lamer, Fred Hesse and Dan Roberge each scored one. Darcy Baert and Roger St. Arnaud scored for Vimy.

Comets have lost two defencemen for the year, Al Miller through sickness and Steve Lynes through a gash to the head that took 17 stitches to close. Lynes was injured in a freak mishap during the game with Vimy, colliding with his own goalie's stick and opening a long cut around his eye.

Defenceman Gerry Magnam has also been hobbled with a groin injury, leaving Comets with only Ron Yanosik, Richie Perrault and Dennis L'Hirondelle on the blueline.

HOME MAKER SERVICE

St. Albert HELP Society 599-515

Speakers outline social services offered here

According to Elmer Harrison, director of preventive social services in St. Albert, many people in the community are unaware of his department's existence.

Mr. Harrison, who along with Mrs. Rachel Paton of the St. Albert Help Society, addressed a group of 90 women attending the February meeting of the St. Albert Newcomers Club, stated that the preventive social service department was often confused with the welfare department.

In differentiating between the two, he explained that the word "preventive" means that his department attempts to deal with people before they become social casualties.

One of approximately 20 such directors throughout the province, Mr. Harrison said that the work of his department is financed through provincial-municipal tax sharing and that he is responsible to the council of the Town of St. Albert.

In outlining his work with various agencies and organizations throughout the community, such as RCMP, social welfare, clergy, senior citizens, youth and recreation groups, Mr. Harrison stressed that his primary concern is keeping families together. Over-all objective of his department is to do whatever is necessary to see that every family in the community has good health, happiness and a wholesome atmosphere in the home.

He pointed out that it is his responsibility to institute programs beneficial to the town and population as a whole, find the people to carry on such programs and find the resources to support them. In this regard, Mr. Harrison cited local merchants for their co-operation in many such undertakings.

Much of his day is spent in counselling groups or individuals - either in his office in the fire hall or in the individual's home. He explained that many people feel more at ease in discussing problems when they are in familiar surroundings. In many cases his work is that of referral agency - to the family service bureau, marriage counsellor, family courts etc.

Although he counsels approximately 20 teen-agers a month, Mr. Harrison stated that others come "just to get something off their chest" and do not really seek advice. In encouraging this sort of contact, he feels there is value to young people in just having someone to lend a sympathetic ear.

Mr. Harrison pointed out that his department does not exist to tell people of the community what they need, but rather to assist in initiating and co-ordinating programs that members of the community tell him are needed.

Mrs. Rachel Paton, supervisor of the St. Albert Help Society, outlined the services which the society offers.

She explained that the society, formed in December following two years of planning and study by a group of local women, is one of the preventive social services offered in St. Albert. It is designed to help people in emergency health situations and to relieve family stress.

The society now has two part-time homemakers on staff. They are supervised by Mrs. Paton. Mature women with good basic homemaking skills, they are capable of maintaining a home when a mother is unable to care for her family due to illness or some stress situation in the home such as a death in the family or a child in hospital.

These homemakers have been given a week of orientation courses which include instruction in nutrition, safety, fire-proofing and poison-proofing a home and carrying out emergency health measures.

This service is provided to families in St. Albert on a sliding fee scale in accordance with ability to pay. The number of children in the family, and other financial responsibility are also factors considered.

Mrs. Paton pointed out that there has been some misinterpretation of the objectives of the society. She has received a number of inquiries from vacationing parents who require baby sitters. Although she has tried to provide assistance where she can, she stressed that this is definitely not a service provided by the society.

Although it was originally thought that mother replacement would be the most pressing need that the society would face, Mrs. Paton stated that many other avenues of assistance to the community were being explored.

Future plans include work in preventing family breakdown, homemaking aid to mothers in the form of assistance with budgeting and child care, establishing homemaking routines for new mothers and women under stress, helping the separated mother with small children, establishment of a day care centre and work with senior citizens.

In order that the society may prove truly effective in providing help to the community, Mrs. Paton stressed that referrals and suggestions from residents of St. Albert would be welcomed.

Report from the Legislature

By Keith Everitt, MLA

Someone stated that in his opinion the general public didn't receive much for their investment as far as progress in the Legislature for the past week was concerned. This, of course, was due to a procedural wrangle which will likely be ironed out.

It has always been my understanding that money bills cannot be introduced by any member except the cabinet minister concerned. However, I always felt I had the prerogative to introduce any bill which did not involve the expenditure of public funds. In my 10 years in the Legislature, this is the first time I have witnessed the opposition introduce bills, regardless of whether they are money bills or not.

In my opinion, any private member should have to submit any bill he intends to introduce to the speaker of the Legislature, or to the law officers of the Crown, to determine if such a bill constitutes expenditure of money, and should be completely ruled out of order if such is found to be the case.

On Tuesday, Feb. 3, I seconded a resolution which was moved by Carl Muller, of Westlock. "Be it resolved that the government of Alberta make representation to the federal government to give serious consideration to making storage payments to farmers who are holding grain in storage on farms, on the same basis as storage payments now made to elevator companies."

In my presentation I noted the following: Wheat sales down in 1969 by $76 million dollars; barley sales down by over $16 million dollars; rapeseed down by almost $2 million; cattle sales down by almost $18 million, and deficiency and dairy supplement payments down by $1 and 1/2 million.

On the other side of the balance sheet, I noted the following increases: Taxes up by 9.8 per cent; farm rent up 11 per cent; wages up 4.8 per cent; interest on indebtedness up 7 per cent; fuel up 9.5 per cent; fertilizer up 14.3 per cent; total operating expenses up 7.3 per cent.

The above figures are taken from statistics supplied by the department of agriculture and apply to the province of Alberta. If the farmer was to receive 12 cents per bushel per year for storage, the same as the grain elevator companies do today, what would be the effect?

Actually, this plan is nothing more than a cash advance, for example, if a farmer had 10,000 bushels of grain stored on the farm that he can't sell, the wheat board would pay him $1,200 per year, and we mustn't forget it is the farmer's money in the first place. These storage payments would not increase in any way the consumer's cost of living.

I often ask the farmers if they understand the method of payments to grain elevator companies today; also the interest the farmers must pay. It has recently been revealed that the Wheat Board not only charges the producer 12 cents per bushel per year to pay storage to grain elevator companies, but that the farmer also pays interest on all the money he collects from the sale of grain to the elevators until such time as the wheat board sells the grain.

What seems most unfair is that the producer at present may receive approximately 60 cents per bushel for barley when delivered to an elevator but the grain company collects 60 cents a bushel for storing this grain for five years. Many of our

Black Hawks downed 6-2

The Black Hawks of the St. Albert Bantam Hockey League lost 6-2 to Athlone in an exhibition game at Mission Park rink last week.

Black Hawks had trouble getting anything organized in the first period and came out on the short end of a 2-0 score. They made some headway in the second but Athlone still finished the period in front 4-2.

local elevators have grain stored far and beyond these five years. This, of course, casts no reflection on our local agents as they are following wheat board policy.

The Frozen Food Act will be amended to give the government greater power to make regulations setting the sanitary standards necessary in the transportation of meat carcasses from slaughterhouse to the processing plant.

The Teaching Profession Act will also be amended. Section 16, subsection (2) now reads: "Where it appears that a former member has been guilty of unprofessional or unethical conduct while he was an active member, disciplinary proceedings may be instituted against him at any time within 90 days from the date he ceased to be an active member, in the same manner as if he were still an active member." The proposed amendment will strike out "90 days" and substitute "six months."

The Municipal and Provincial Properties Valuation Act will be amended. The new section of this act makes the following stipulation:

"(1) The assessor of every municipality that imposes a business tax shall, in accordance with the regulations, prepare a valuation for business assessment purposes in respect of any premises of

(a) Alberta Liquor Control Board

(b) Alberta Government Telephones Commission

(c) Treasury Branches."

Section 9 is also revised to include a reference to the new section. Authority to pay grants in lieu of taxes will be in the various Acts named in the section. I can almost hear the applause from the various towns and villages.

Four generations present at Youville birthday party

A birthday celebration in the form of a family reunion took place at the Youville Home last Thursday in honor of Joseph Berube.

Mr. Berube, 97, was born Feb. 5, 1873, in St. Pierre-Baptist, Que.

When he was eight he found himself working in a cotton manufacturing plant in Maine.

Mr. Berube was married in 1897 and after spending several years working in the United States, the Berubes came to Canada and settled in Alberta, first homesteading briefly in Beaumont and moving later to Villeneuve where they farmed and raised a family of eight children.

They retired in 1942 and made their home with one of their daughters. Mr. Berube was predeceased by his wife in 1948 and continued making his home with his daughter until two years ago when he moved to the Youville Home.

Mr. Berube neither owned nor drove a car in his life and enjoyed walking very much. He has 37 grandchildren, 75 great-grandchildren and 24 great-great-grandchildren. His surviving children still farm in the Villeneuve area.

Mr. Berube enjoys living at the Youville Home and passes the time watching TV and playing cards. He enjoys a good cigar and smokes at least one a day. He has a shot of brandy every day, too.

Overcrowding causes church change

The St. Albert United Church will begin holding one service only, at 10 a.m. on Sunday, Feb. 15.

Sunday School for Grades 4 to 9 will be held in the lower hall of the Community Hall on Perron St. from 10 to 11:30 a.m. Sunday School for children from nursery age to Grade 3 will be held at the church along with the morning worship service.

"At the present time we have been holding two services and two Sunday Schools in order to accommodate the Sunday School," Rev. Leonard Musto said Monday.

The Juniors have been using the manse basement, but there isn't enough room to do the varied activities that are required for this age group. With the anticipated rapid growth of our town, it was felt necessary to look for adequate space, so arrangements have been made to use the Community Hall.

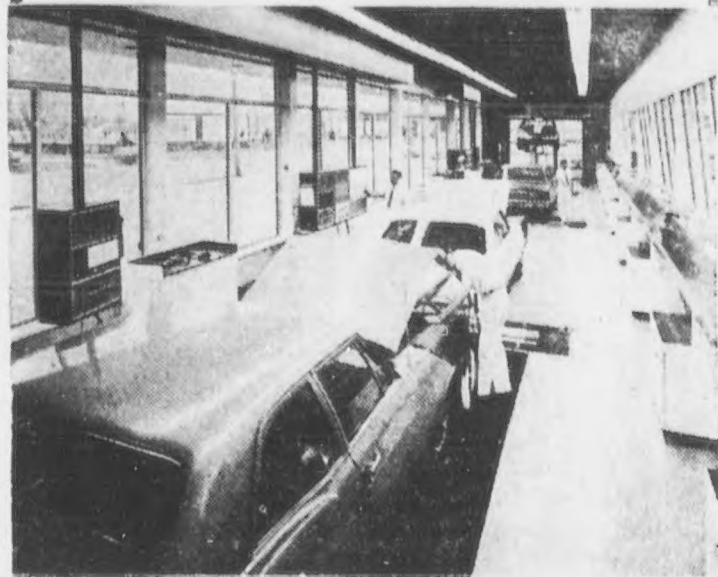

"We hope parents won't mind driving their children of these age groups to the hall, then come to the church with the younger ones of the family."

Mr. Musto said the church service will be from 10 to 11 o'clock with a coffee time following to meet friends and become better acquainted with new people in the congregation.

TELEVISION and EDUCATION

Hand in hand at St. Albert High School

When students from St. Albert High School watch television these days, they aren't always just seeing what is showing on the screen.

They're going right behind it, catching camera angles and studying techniques, noting the professional's touch at putting together a program.

You see, television has come to St. Albert High in a big way over the past year. Students no longer just watch tv shows, they produce them.

It's all part of the special projects course run by Dan Chugg, a 24-year-old native of Edmonton who, in his second year of teaching at St. Albert High, is audio visual co-ordinator for the school.

"Special projects is something new. It just came out this year and we jumped right into it. Next semester it will be an accredited course," Mr. Chugg said in an interview with The Gazette last week.

BORROWED EQUIPMENT

It actually started last year when Mr. Chugg produced a couple of programs with borrowed equipment.

"Father Ubald Duchesneau had a camera, video tape unit and sound system to produce programs for his religion classes," Mr. Chugg said. "He allowed me to use it to experiment on some science programs."

The result was that the high school presented some proposals to the school board last summer and the board went along with them. More than $4,000 worth of equipment was purchased and Mr. Chugg went to work in August to assemble it in preparation for the start of the first semester.

It's now a smoothly functioning unit, but it wasn't all roses getting there.

TRIAL AND ERROR

"I had taken a few courses in audio visual education and had dabbled in television at the University of Alberta, but most of what I learned was through trial and error the last semester," Mr. Chugg said. "I had learned some of the basics of production, but most of it the students and I had to figure out on our own. We learned a lot together."

Mr. Chugg, who also teaches chemistry 10, 20 and 30, said many of the staff members were skeptical about the television program but now most of them want to use it.

The teachers come up with the ideas, transmit them to Mr. Chugg and his special projects' students, and they produce the programs.

"We never lecture over television. We try to do things better over tv than could be done in the classroom. If it can't be done, then there's no use using tv," Mr. Chugg said.

ATTENTION-GETTER

He said one of the basic reasons that television is so successful in education is that it is an attention-getter.

"It's just something that is built into the medium," he said. "People are captivated without really knowing that they are."

He said students become more involved with the program by participating in the learning situation.

"Classes can be arranged in groups, each picking out a project that is involved in the course or courses that we are taking," Mr. Chugg said. "Then they produce it. They get much more from this than a cold presentation in a classroom."

TV is taking the load off the teacher who may be handling as many as four classes that are the same. Now he can tape the lesson and it will be shown in the same form to all classes.

PERFECT PRESENTATION

"It allows for a much more organized presentation," Mr. Chugg said, "because the tape can be edited and changed to eliminate mistakes. Actually, the perfect presentation can be made."

He said that in classes such as physics, students are also able to watch experiments easier.

"In many cases, only students in the first two rows can see well under normal circumstances. But with television, two sets can be mounted in the classroom and the experiment will occupy the complete screen."

Mr. Chugg said television is also important for self evaluation. Students in typing, home economics, drama etc., can see themselves doing things and evaluate and criticize themselves, something which is extremely important in drama.

Mr. Chugg's students have done some programs for other schools, but they are limited at present because the equipment is not exactly portable. A pitch was made to the school board last week for a portable unit that will eliminate this problem and make the operation much more flexible.

TAPE GAMES

With portable equipment, Mr. Chugg hopes to tape basketball games and important happenings at other schools in the public system.

The students recently taped a staff meeting at Vital Grandin but it took an hour to move the equipment each way.

Television is being used more and more for staff meetings at St. Albert High. Through the year each section has to report on what is being taught in the courses, bringing out new methods, etc. Now it is done via tv. A half-hour program on physical education was recently shown and the same has also been done for science and business.

Mr. Chugg's group produced about 10 programs last semester. The crews were all volunteers, with no credits for their work.

TAPED PLAY

One of the projects enabled a Grade 9 class to watch themselves in play they had written and produced.

"They got a lot of good out of seeing themselves," Mr. Chugg said. "It would be even better now as we have zoom lenses. We didn't have them then."

Mr. Chugg said a Grade 8 science class went well beyond the course. They did research, wrote scripts and produced some good programs.

The school is also making good use of professionally made tapes it can get through the Metro Edmonton Educational Television Association.

"We send a tape to them and they will dub what we want onto our tape. This means we don't have to pay a rental fee umpteen times. After this it is ours," Mr. Chugg said.

MONITORS CBC

He also has the equipment to tape the half-hour educational show the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation produces each morning.

Tapes are stored and when teachers want to show them, they pick them up and wheel the portable unit to their classrooms to show them.

It is these programs that are motivating Mr. Chugg to strive for better productions from his student groups. "We have to compete with the professional medium. Students won't watch junk tv. They'll excuse some things because it is a student production, but they won't excuse a lot of things."

WANTS TO TEACH

Mr. Chugg said he would like to stay in the television end of education, but he wouldn't ever want to get away from teaching.

Students plan pollution study

The problem of pollution has been getting a big play in newspapers, magazines and on TV lately. Like the weather, is it something everyone talks about but nobody does anything about?

"Not so," say some 30 teen-agers at Paul Kane High School. They propose to make a concentrated study of the problem of pollution in the St. Albert and Edmonton areas over the next several months. Hopefully, they'll reach some conclusions and perhaps even offer some solutions.

Students undertaking this ambitious program are members of a Grade 11 social studies class taught by Glen Manyuk and a Grade 11 biology class taught by John Darroch.

The project, which will cover at least a three-month period, will demand many hours of work out of class - after school and on weekends - but even this doesn't seem to dampen the enthusiasm of the students who chose to work on this particular project because of its importance now and in the future.

Mr. Manyuk pointed out that the project will attempt to show people of this area that the problem of pollution is not something confined to areas around big industrial centres in the east but is a very real problem here in Western Canada.

It is expected that the project with its "total involvement" of students will teach much more than just facts about pollution.

Getting to know how committees function, the interaction between committees, learning research techniques, learning to approach government agencies for help, finding out about the use of audio-visual tools for presenting findings - these will all be useful by-products of the undertaking.

Although the project has just been conceived, students have already formed committees.

Vic Post will be in charge of the media committee. Use of 35 mm. and 8 mm. camera equipment has been proposed. There is even a possibility that a TV film of the project might be produced with an assist from Mr. Manyuk. In addition to teaching at Paul Kane, he also works as an instructional assistant in the audio-visual department of the University of Alberta.

In charge of samples is Bill Gowans. It will be the responsibility of his committee to gather samples of water, air and land in order to find the effects of pollution on the rivers, lakes, and tap water of the area, the effects that industry, cars, aircraft and cigarettes are having on the air and how crops, animals and soils are affected by pesticides and other pollutants.

Alice Berard and Mary Jamison head the testing and research committees. Their duties will include contacting the provincial lab, conservation branch and provincial water resources branch, as well as being responsible for research on the subject in the library, newspaper and through government agencies.

Interviews will be conducted by a committee of students headed by Shirley Johnson. Various provincial and municipal departments of government will be approached, as well as drug stores, chemical plants and "man-in-the-street" interviews will be conducted to get public opinion on the problem.

What will the results be? That remains to be seen. Much depends on the success of the project, the teachers agreed, but at least there will be 30 teen-agers more aware of the problems of pollution in western Canada generally and in the St. Albert and Edmonton areas specifically. Hopefully twice that number of parents will also have become interested and perhaps, with proper publicity, a whole community will have a greater awareness of the problem.

Both Mr. Manyuk and Mr. Darroch feel that perhaps one of the greatest lessons to be learned from the project is that a small group of concerned individuals can effect change - when they are willing to put time and effort into something they believe in.

Calling all cover girls

A recent arrival to St. Albert is charming Mrs. William Speer who makes her home at 44 Broadview Crescent. Mrs. Speer is the former Linda Loughlin of Edmonton and if you will check your memory back a few short years you will no doubt remember that she reigned as Miss Muk Luk Mardi Gras in 1965-66.

As a result of winning this contest Linda travelled to Copenhagen that year and presented the mayor of that city with the key to Edmonton and after a three week tour that took her through Paris, Munich, Ireland and England she returned home to continue with a fascinating career in modelling. Linda was born and raised in Edmonton and graduated from Ross Shepherd High School in 1963. While in high school she started modelling in her spare time and danced in the chorus for the Civic Opera Society. Through these activities she was chosen cover girl for the Klondike Days posters. Linda also enjoys cooking and riding and has her own horse.

LINDA SPEER

Linda claims that all of these wonderful opportunities for travel and excitement were opened up to her because of her interest in modelling and now she has opened up her very own studio which she calls Cover Girl.

Now Linda is calling all

St. Albert Cover Girls that might be interested in a career in modelling, self improvement and charm. She is interested in little cover girls and little cover boys from age three to 11 whom she would like to teach how to walk, be polite, to gain poise and follow instructions. According to Linda, these children just love it and are very natural and make great models. She also offers courses for teens and of course there are matron cover girls as well.

The course Linda offers to the St. Albert housewife includes instruction in poise grooming, walking, posture, hair styling, diet and exercise, wardrobe and accessories, skin care and make-up and self confidence. The main idea, however, is for the housewife to get out of the house for two hours a week and to have coffee and attend the classes with enjoyment and instruction.

The teen instruction includes all of the aforementioned courses along with tips on dating and social conduct. Teens are also needed for sponsorship for beauty contests and are in great demand for fashion shows.

There is also a great demand for male models. Cover girls are picked from Linda's classes to model the latest fashions for television, department stores, photography, advertising agencies and fashion shows. Some of the work involves travelling to other cities for shows.

Registration for the new spring look in modelling will take place on Feb. 17. Groups of 12 women interested are entitled to special reduction rates by phoning 599-5377 in the evenings or 482-5232 during the day. Special teen classes are held on Saturdays.

The St. Albert Chapter of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses toured the new Sturgeon General Hospital now under construction. The tour was conducted by Hospital Administrator Gordon Townend.

Bruins collect first legitimate triumph

St. Albert Bruins collected their first legitimate win of the High 16 West hockey league season Sunday afternoon, defeating Tomahawk 6-5 at the Sturgeon rink.

They got their winning goal in the last minute of play and victory was never sweeter than it was for coach Alex Potter's crew. Their only win had been by default over Onoway.

They lost 4-0 to their crosstown rivals, the Wildcats, on Friday night.

Bruins had to fight from behind all the way to get their first win. They trailed 2-0 at the end of the first period and 4-2 after the second. They scored three straight goals in the third to take the lead for the first time but with five minutes to go, Tomahawk tied the score.

There was less than a minute to play when Craig Neeser fired home the winner from a scramble in front of the Tomahawk goal.

Neeser also got one of the earlier goals. Mike O'Neill got three and Stewart McKinnon one.

Norman Roy, Gordie Bellerose, Raymond Poulin and Raymond Gamache scored in Wildcats' 4-0 win over Bruins.

There were 14 penalties in the game with eight going to the Bruins, two of them misconducts to Rene Vallee and Chris Wilson.

The Wildcats lost 4-2 to Spruce Grove on Sunday. Raymond Gamache and Jar Jensen scored their goals.

Bruins will travel to Tomahawk for a game tonight and then will be at home to Stony Plain at the Grandin rink at 8 p.m. Friday.

Wildcats' next home game will be Monday against Tomahawk.

Fire Dept. peewees win Legal tourney

Glen McRae's goal in sudden-death overtime gave St. Albert Fire Department's peewee hockey team a 3-2 victory over Vimy and top spot in the Legal Invitational tournament Saturday.

McRae, who is still eligible for mites this year as he is only 10, stole the puck from a defenceman at centre ice and raced in alone to score with a knee-high shot from 15 feet out.

The goal came with just more than a minute gone in the overtime period.

The victory was the third straight for the Fireboys. They won their first 1-0 over Vimy and then beat Legal 3-2 in the A section final. It was their first win over Legal in four meetings this season.

In other games, Legal downed Morinville 8-1 and Vimy defeated Morinville

1-0. All games consisted of two 20-minute straight time periods.

Sandy Millroy gave Fire Department a 1-0 lead in the first period of the final but Art Blodeau tied it for Vimy before the period ended. Michel Blanchette gave Vimy the lead in the second but Greg Pudlowski tied the score again with three minutes left in the game to set the stage for McRae's heroics.

Chris Hoffart scored the only goal of the game on a shot from the point in Fire Department's first win over Vimy. Millroy, Pudlowski and David Kieser handled the scoring against Legal. Louis Pelletier and Bernie Fizer scored for Legal.

Rudy Chalifoux scored three goals to lead Legal to the win over Morinville. Fizer added two and Dennis Chamberlain, R. Brisson and D. Boissonault added one each.

Fred Bernard scored Vimy's goal in their win over Morinville.

Move to retain tot lots fails

A motion by Councillor John de Bruijn calling for finance committee to cease its investigation of the sale of tot lots and that they be left as is failed to get the required backing in council Monday night.

Only Mayor Ray Gibbon sided with Councillor de Bruijn. Councillors R. G. Wheatley, Frank Lukay and Rene Kambouroff still wanted to see a report from finance.

Councillor Wheatley said

may issue cab franchise

Town council approved in principle Monday night the matter of drafting terms of reference for a taxi franchise.

The move came after a request for a franchise by Glen Landsborough of St. Albert Cabs.

The terms of reference will be drafted by the town solicitor.

Mr. Landsborough said he was not against anyone starting a cab company in St. Albert, but the franchise would help keep out ringers, people who were fronting for some major company.

He said it was possible

he was in favor of the resolution but subject to conditions. He wanted to know what was to happen to the lots that were as yet undeveloped.

(Five of the 10 lots the St. Albert Kinsmen Club donated to the town have been developed.)

It was a question Councillor Kambouroff also asked.

Council has received several letters from residents asking for the retention of the tot lots.

that a major company would move in in an attempt to force him out of business just to get his two-way radio frequency.

He said frequencies were now at a premium and some cab companies in the city were operating more than 100 cars on one frequency.

He operates only five on his.

"There wouldn't be enough business for a big company to keep the equipment out here," he said. "It would move it back into the city and leave St. Albert without service."

Ken Crooks, president of the St. Albert Association, said it was decided at the general meeting Sunday night that it would be better to wait and see what transpired at the provincial convention before holding elections.

He said another general meeting would be held within 90 days.

Mr. Crooks announced the names of delegates to the convention. They are:

R. G. Wheatley, Mrs. Barb Wheatley, Rod Woodcock, Ken Crooks, Mrs. Marlene Crooks, Bill Penrose, Ray Gibbon, Mrs. Eileen Gibbon, Bob Russell, Mrs. Joanne Russell, Mrs. M. Chalfoux.

Jerry Thorpe and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Davies were named as alternates.

Young Liberals who will be attending are Paul Rapati of St. Albert and Paul Riopel of Morinville.

"Daughter," said the mother, "didn't I tell you not to let strange men come to your apartment? You know things like that worry me."

"Don't be ridiculous, Mother!" laughed the girl. "I went to his apartment this time. Now, let his mother worry!"

Ben Bruns presents the National Concrete Accessories Trophy to Mrs. Nancy Whalen of St. Albert, whose rink was the second event in the local ladies bonspiel last week. Curling with Mrs. Whalen (from left) were Marg Berg, third; Vi Tetreau, second; and Betty Nisbet, lead. The Whalen rink defeated Helen McEvoy in the final.

The Pat Hudson rink of St. Albert, skipped by Bunny Porowski, won the Molson's (third) event in the local ladies open bonspiel last week. Members of the Hudson rink from left are Jerry Jeffries, second; Bea Krogh, lead; Mrs. Hudson and Mrs. Porowski. They beat Marg Penrose's rink in the final.

S. Wilson wins fencing championship

Shelley Wilson of St. Albert came up with her first win of the season over Sherryn Amsten of Calgary at the weekend, and it gave her ladies senior foil championship in a tournament at the University of Calgary.

The Calgary woman had stood in 14-year-old Shelley's path in two tournaments in the fall, and neither time had Shelley managed to dislodge her.

This time, however, Shelley managed to get in her kicks and won one of two matches against her rival. They finished the tournament tied, but Shelley won on a better points record.

One of Shelley's toughest matches was the final in the senior foil. She beat Lesael Leiwke of Calgary 4-3 with a touch in the 12th and final minute of the match.

Shelley also led the Edmonton team to first place in the senior foil event, winning four of five matches. Over-all, she scored 14 wins and two losses, piling up more than 60 touches while giving up only 16.

BON ACCORD — The year 1969 was a busy and successful time for members of the Bon Accord Ladies Community Club.

A number of social events were sponsored and well patronized. Among these events were St. Patrick's dine and dance party, the annual plant sale, tea and sale of home baking, turkey supper, novelty costume dance and the New Year's Eve Ball.

Members catered for one wedding reception supper and served and washed dishes at another reception. A refreshment booth was operated at the 4-H Calf Club achievement day at Bon Accord.

The turkey supper went over very well despite the fact that the meal had to be served upstairs in the Community Hall. The hall basement was being used for school classrooms. However with the spirited help of members of the newly formed Cubs and Scouts groups, tables, chairs, dishes and cutlery were quickly transferred from the basement in readiness for the evening meal. During the serving of the supper, the expert assistance of local 4-H girls was greatly appreciated.

A special thank you to all who patronized this annual event; those who donated food and assisted in any way.

During the year a number of articles were purchased for use at the Community Centre. Bamboo drapes were hung at the four long upstairs windows, thus giving the ballroom a graceful appearance.

The sum of $25 was donated to the Bon Accord History Book fund in conjunction with the Community Centre board of directors, which donated a similar sum.

Rentals paid to Community Centre - $125; cash donations to Community Centre in 1969 - $1,000.

Total cash donations to

SOME QUESTIONS!

Marketings, Canada's advertising news weekly, lists these as the worst questions tourists ask year in, year out at Niagara Falls, Ontario:

- * Where is Ontario?
- * When you say 25 miles, is that Canadian miles or U.S. miles?
- * Where do I change my money into pounds, shillings and pence?

Community Centre from 1946 to Dec. 31, 1969 - $17,552.22.

Club members enjoyed their annual outing last May at a dinner and show in Edmonton.

The Christmas meeting was held at the new home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Whittaker in Edmonton. Gifts were exchanged among members after a tasty Chinese food supper.

Farewell gifts were presented to Kate Whittaker and Marge Hrychuk. The latter, now resides at St. Albert.

First meeting of 1970 was held at the home of Mrs. Terry Wilkins. (Temperature - 25 below zero). After the routine business was completed election of officers for 1970 was held. All members of the executive were returned unanimously. President - Mrs. Patricia Reynolds; vice-president - Mrs. Frances Kondruk; secretary - Mrs. Doreen Hewitt; treasurer - Miss Jean Sloan.

Mrs. Reynolds who was vice-president took over as president when Mrs. Carmen Tellier left the district last July. Mrs. Kondruk was elected to act as vice-president.

The first business enacted in 1970 was the purchase of a deep-freezer to be used in the community hall kitchen. Assistance will be offered the skating rink association in connection with the ice carnival to be held Feb. 27 and 28.

Social events are being planned for future dates.

JACK SCOTT COLUMN

ITS THE HANGOVER THAT KEEPS US SOBER
By Jack Scott

When you come right down to it, the greatest incentive to sane and intelligent drinking is not a matter of laws governing the use of alcohol, breathalyzer tests on the highways, temperance education or even a matter of conscience.

The real incentive is simply the plain, ordinary, everyday, old-fashioned hangover.

Many thousands of Canadians will soon be starting 1970 pledging themselves like evangelists to a new life of moderation, merely because on New Year's morning they'll feel as if they had been kicked repeatedly in the head by a dray-horse.

The hangover is not an immediate cure, but it has a cumulative effect and after years of suffering most men come to the reluctant admission that every golden drop of grain spirits is a down payment on irrevocable misery. Eventually, sometimes around the age of 90, some men begin to get the idea.

Medical science has now simplified the whole business of the morning after.

We know exactly what is happening to the chemistry of the body.

The alcohol, usually between the second and fourth highball, enters the blood stream and proceeds to dry up the rather important substance known as thiamin hydrochloride, or B-1. Meanwhile the lactic acid is acting as a sandpaper (coarse grade) upon the intestinal tract, the membranes and the sensitive lining of the stomach. The well-known result includes those old voodoo drums beating, beating, between the crowded temples, the mouthful of grandmaw's lysol and the pressure cooker eyeballs.

Unhappily medical science has very little idea of what to do about it except to suffer like a man.

There are, of course, a great many spurious claims for hangover cures. Some men advocate a brisk walk in the fresh air. Others, usually of the Neanderthal type, recommend the cold shower. A full pint of milk is sometimes prescribed. Spirits of ammonia, bicarbonates, hot water, aspirin -- each has its wistful little set of faith cure addicts.

The more advanced "cures" are invariably as disagreeable as the malady itself.

Anyone who has seen a man attempting to restore himself before noon with a Prairie Oyster -- one pony Cognac, one tablespoon Worcestershire, one tablespoon vinegar, one teaspoon ketchup, one teaspoon Angostura, the yolk of a raw egg and a shake of cayenne -- has seen the folly and degradation of intemperance.

The really effective cures, of course, are all a variation of the Hair-of-the-Dog theory and are only a reprieve in the long shadow of the gallows.

Similarly the pre-party precautions, such as a figger of olive oil or cream, while effective enough in the early stages, are merely a postponement and, indeed, may be fatal since they induce a false note of confidence.

Alcohol, in short, should be approached in the same manner as a dark basement stairway in a home where a great many children are roller-skaters.

In its purely physical aspects the hangover is grim enough, but the mental effect is even more telling as a deterrent to over-indulgence. This particularly true of older men who have, or feign, a certain dignity and reserve in their normal state.

A middle-aged man, awakening with a headful of warm glue and a mitted tongue, may forget his aches in dreadful speculation upon whether he did or did not drop an ice cube down the inviting back of Mrs. Twing's gown.

I once knew a man who awoke on a morning after with the certain knowledge that he had stepped to a microphone before some 800 strangers and rendered "Melancholy Baby" in a high tenor voice. It shocked him into an awareness of his basic inability to drink properly and it was fully two weeks before he touched the stuff again.

This is known as the remorseful hangover, said to be extremely common on New Year's Day, and has caused many men to end up shaking a tambourine on a street corner warning the passers-by against the evils of drink.

Little Boy: "I ain't afraid of going to the hospital, Mother, but I ain't going to let them pawn off a baby on me like they did on you. I want a pup."

Gervais reaches 7th Alberta curling final

Hector Gervais of St. Albert will meet Ron Northcott of Calgary at the Derrick Club in Edmonton on Friday and Saturday for the Alberta curling championship.

Gervais won the right to meet Northcott's world champion when he came from down the road to win the Northern title in the 16-zone playoff in Edmonton last weekend.

Gervais came out of B event faced with the prospect of beating the A event winner, Gil Svensen of Lechamps when he came to, 9-7 and 8-6.

It gave him a seventh trip to the Alberta final, his sixth as a skip. He was third for Matt Baldwin in 1960.

Gervais won the Briar and Scotch Cup, emblematic of world curling supremacy, in 1961 but lost out in a three-way Briar playoff in 1962. He represented Northern Alberta in 1964, 1965 and 1967.

Curling third for Gervais on this trip are Bill Mitchell at third, Wayne Saboe at second and Bill Tainish at lead.

Gervais, holding one of the four city spots in the playoff, defeated Nestor Dowlanuk 11-3 and Pete Chalick of Hinton 10-2 to romp to the A final. Losing there 10-9 against Svensen, he started all over again in B, beating Schwenk again 9-8 and then Herbie Olson 11-8 to get another crack at Svensen.

Kurt Schlinkinger of St. Albert represented Zone 5 and bowed out in the eights of B event.

Schlinkinger downed John Wios of Boyle 11-7 in his first game in A, then was edged 4-3 by Svensen. He beat Harold Hunchak of Wainwright 12-8 in the 16s of B but then lost 13-6 to Schwenk to bow out with a 2-2 mark.

Curling with Schlinkinger were Gerry Fisher at third, Remi Boddas at second and Kevin Byrne at lead.

The Reps were beaten by Safeway of the local bantam league. A week ago they lost 7-3 to Black Hawks of the same league.

Doug Homer scored four goals for Safeway, who had period leads of 3-0 and 4-1. Keith Rae and Allan Eschak got the others.

Gary Ferguson scored the lone goal for the Representatives.

St. Albert High girls unbeaten

St. Albert High School Girls basketball team remained unbeaten in North Central Zone action last week, defeating Drayton Valley 48-32 in Drayton Valley.

The boys lost 70-29. The last league game will be played Friday, with St. Albert High visiting Paul Kane in a game at Vital Grandin School.

Paul Kane boys lost their game last week 52-39 to Stony Plain. Les Martin, with 14 points, and Brian O'Toole, with 12, were the top Paul Kane pointgetters.

The Paul Kane girls lost 25-24 to Stony Plain. Karen Durling scored two-thirds of the St. Albert points, collecting 16.

Paul Kane teams will travel to Camrose for a tournament on Saturday, the third straight weekend they have hit the road in an attempt to sharpen themselves for the league playoffs.

The North Central Zone playoffs will be held at St. Albert High on Saturday, Feb. 21, with Stony Plain and Drayton Valley competing against the two St. Albert high schools.

Reps downed

St. Albert's peewee representative team tried on some larger competition again Sunday afternoon and came out on the losing end of a 6-1 score.

The Reps were beaten by Safeway of the local bantam league. A week ago they lost 7-3 to Black Hawks of the same league.

Doug Homer scored four goals for Safeway, who had period leads of 3-0 and 4-1. Keith Rae and Allan Eschak got the others.

Gary Ferguson scored the lone goal for the Representatives.

The soccer season will kick off early this year with an organizational meeting in the Clubhouse (beside the swimming pool) on Sunday, Feb. 15 at 7:30 p.m. Coffee will be served and anyone interested in managing or coaching boys' soccer team is invited to attend. More coaches and managers will be needed this year, and coaches from past seasons are urged to offer their services again and newcomers to the town who are interested in soccer will be made very welcome at the meeting on Sunday.

gratulated as they played a team of considerably older girls.

BADMINTON

The City Badminton Tournament was completed last week. Two members of the St. Albert Badminton Club, Pat Waunch and Helen Neumann won the "C" mixed doubles and later Helen teamed with a partner from Southgate to win the "C" ladies doubles.

In the Bonnie Doon Tournament held recently, Bernice Parsons won the Ladies "B" singles and Pat Waunch won the "C" consolation men's singles. Betty Ontkane and Judy Wood were finalists in the "B" ladies doubles while Frank Carnahan and Beryl Harding were finalists in the "C" mixed doubles.

The Novelty Doubles Tournament arranged for Feb. 16 has been postponed till Thursday, Feb. 19 as the "B" inter-club team will be playing at the university on the 16th. At the previous novelty doubles tournament held in December, Art Carnahan and Gwen Greathead were the prize-winners. (Judy Wood, although winning, was ineligible for the prize as she had been the winner of the opening competition). In January, prizes went to Ian Abraham and Barb Munro.

Both the B and C inter-club teams are doing very well and should be in the city play-offs.

The "B" team is usually

St. Albert High curling runner-up

Kim Donalds of St. Albert High School almost matched her brother Jan's performance of last year in the Zone 5 schoolgirls' curling final at Barrhead on the weekend.

Kim's rink pushed Westlock right to the wire, coming out of B event of the double-knockout competition to win the first game in the final, then bowing out in the second 6-5.

Jan last year dropped the first game, then roared back for six straight victories to win the right to represent the zone in the northern final.

Westlock will represent Zone 5 in the northern Alberta School Girls playdowns in Edmonton this weekend.

Curling with Kim were Joan Savole at third, Joanne Savole at second and Marie Van Tighem at lead.

Paul Kane High School was also represented in the competition but went out in straight games. Janice Hoosier was skip. Bobbi Varner third, Janice Schlinker at second and Lorna Harvey lead.

composed of Betty Ontkane, Judy Wood, Beryl Harding, June Raven, Bernice Parsons, Peter Kuchler, Ian Abraham, Clarke Warren and Pat Waunch.

Beryl Harding, June Raven, Tony Raven, Frank Carnahan and Lorne Wood are members of the "C" team. HOCKEY

Coaches are asked to notify the department of recreation (599-6601) when they cancel practices or games so that the ice time can be made available to other teams.
